Dear friend,

Thank you for all you do to make it possible for us to reach Latin America with the gospel.

Proclaim reaches towns 'at the end of the line' with the good news

Proclaim's ministry in Peru began eighteen years ago in the jungle city of Iquitos, but after a few years it was absorbed by great opportunities to reach teens in high schools of western coastal cities and mountain towns.

Now the ministry has grown in Peru until we are reaching out once again in the jungle, bringing the good news to teens in Pucallpa (SEE THE APRIL LETTER), the largest jungle city in Peru, and in the town of Atalaya. Both towns are beside the great Ucayali River, a tributary to the headwaters of the Amazon River.

Proclaim speaks to teens in the jungle town of Atalaya this month

Buried deep in the jungle and accessible only by long days on river boats – and in more recent years by air – Atalaya is now connected to the Pacific Ocean by road through the jungle and the Andes Mountains. As the road improves, Atalaya expects to expand to receive people who come to take advantage of available land, the cacao and coffee industries, cattle raising, gold mining, and more.

And Proclaim is there each year, encouraging teens to follow Christ. It seems that the Holy Spirit has given a burden to Pastor Jose Delgado, Proclaim's director in Peru, to establish these outreaches in the jungle which affect these cultures with the gospel strategically during what may become significant growth and change.

We reach more than teens

We maintain a keen focus on the needs of teens, but we take each opportunity to hold events for their parents and teachers, as well. Frequently both teens and adults respond to surrender their lives to Jesus Christ.

Thank you for your help to reach those who may not otherwise hear that Jesus saves

Yes, we are still dedicated to large metropolitan areas where we can conveniently reach many high schools. At the same time we also reach out to meet this need in high schools in Atalaya. Please pray with us that the Lord will use the team to call people in Atalaya to himself. And when you can, help us meet the travel expenses for these ministers of the gospel. May God bless you for your interest in reaching people in the jungle for his glory.

Yours in Christ,
