

December 2018

Dear friend,

The team pulls together in a crisis

I received a quick text and phone call Monday from Pastor Jose Delgado in Peru urging us to pray.

"A Proclaim Team is already assembling in Cajamarca, but is facing a serious difficulty. Cecilia was to be the speaker for this outreach, but doctors discovered a tumor in her pancreas that is affecting her health, and this week she will undergo a series of exams.

"This has taken us all by surprise. We quickly tried to find another specialist to speak in these many events, but no one was available on short notice.

"We don't want to cancel this outreach because many schools have already arranged their schedules to include our high school assembly."

So Jose and his wife, Angela, quickly purchased airline and bus tickets and joined the outreach team in Cajamarca. As they were going, Jose was preparing to give Cecilia's presentation on sexually transmitted diseases himself, and Angela was preparing to join the counseling team.

Is Jose actually equipped to give a presentation on STDs?

Yes. Jose can speak knowledgeably to teens on the subject. He has read and heard specialists speak on sexually transmitted diseases hundreds of times and has helped to adjust their PowerPoint presentations. He has been the second speaker in many of those events, clarifying such issues for the students and presenting the gospel. Even this week, many are responding and surrendering their lives to Jesus Christ.

You and I are standing with Jose and the team

On their way, Jose phoned me from Lima as he cared for his aged father while his sister-in-law Cecilia underwent tests at the hospital. He called again from Cajamarca between the first and second presentations of the week, asking me to pray with him over the phone and saying how much he wishes I could be there to support him in this unique effort. Even though you and I aren't there, the team depends on us to help plan and provide the things needed for success. Thank you for praying and giving to help maintain this important ministry. Please pray with us for Cecilia's health.

Your Christmastime giving

As you think about giving during this Christmas season, may I ask you to make a generous donation to sustain this ministry of evangelism to teenagers? Your generosity will help to meet outstanding expenses from the current year and will help to put us in a position to continue reaching teenagers in the New Year with confidence in the Lord and in his provision. Thank you so much, and may God bless you for it.

Yours in Christ,

John Buerer
Director

Have a blessed Christmas!
